

ADAPT Video Catalogue

ADAPT (2013-8) was a European Research Council project (grant agreement No 323626) at Royal Holloway University of London.

ADAPT examined television technologies: what were used and why; how they worked; and how people worked with them. The project carried out 'simulations' that reunited retired equipment with the people who used to use it.

Participants explained how each machine worked and how different machines worked together as an 'array'; how they adapted the machines; and how they worked together as teams.
